

person as the board of aldermen may appoint for that purpose, and all penalties provided for violations of law by supervisors of election or board of canvassers shall be applicable for violations of law by the city register or other person appointed for that purpose, while acting in such capacity. All officers of registration, judges and clerks of election appointed by the city register shall hold office for a term of four years. In addition to the foregoing the city register shall perform such other duties pertaining to the proper administration of his office as may be required of him by ordinance; and the board of aldermen may at any time by ordinance annul any or all of the powers and duties hereby conferred upon the city register and collector of taxes and either apportion said powers or any part thereof among the mayor and aldermen, or city appointees or appoint such other officer or officers for the purpose of exercising such powers or any of them, whenever in their opinion the public service would be benefited thereby. The city register and collector of taxes shall be nominated by the superintendent of the department of accounts and finance and confirmed by the board of aldermen as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 270G. The City Register in the year 1913 and in every fourth year thereafter, shall appoint before the first day of May two persons as judges of election, and on or before the tenth day of May two more persons as judges and two persons as clerks of election for each voting precinct in said city. It shall not be necessary to appoint new judges or clerks of election for any special election to be held in said city, but the judges and clerks appointed under this article for the general election as herein provided for shall discharge the duties of said judges and clerks respectively, within their several precincts wherein such special elections shall be held; each judge and clerk of election must be a legal voter residing in the precinct for which he is appointed, a man of good capacity and character, able to speak, read and write the English language and skilled in the four fundamental rules of arithmetic and not a candidate for any office at the next election.

SEC. 270CCC. At every election each qualified voter shall be entitled to receive one official ballot. The person applying therefor to the judge of election holding the ballot shall give his name and residence, and said judge shall repeat same in a loud distinct voice, and if such name be found upon the register by the judge having the custody thereof, he shall repeat the said name, and the voter shall be allowed to enter the space enclosed by the guard rail; and the judge holding the ballot, having first written in ink the voter's name and number upon
