

the name of the shipper, and he shall keep a strict account of all game sold, its character, the number of birds or quadrupeds, the time or manner of shipment, with the name and address of the purchaser and shall file with the State Game Warden an itemized statement from the before-named book at the close of every twelve months, beginning with the date of the certificate. The data thus collected by the State Game Warden shall be held strictly confidential and shall be used by said State Game Warden only for the purposes of satisfying himself that the law relative to this subject is being obeyed within said preserve and propagating farm, or as evidence in cases where he is satisfied that the law is not being obeyed. This book, together with the premises described with all game thereon, shall be open to inspection upon demand of the State Game Warden or his deputies, the State Game Warden giving written instructions to his deputy, directing him to thus inspect such plant, and the refusal of any person holding the propagating certificate to permit such inspection by any of the officers above named or the neglect or refusal upon the part of said holder of said certificate to comply with the reasonable request of the State Game Warden in any manner pertaining to said plant in which the said State Game Warden has the legal right to be heard, shall be sufficient cause for the refusal upon the part of the State Game Warden to renew any propagating certificate in this State. All boxes or crates or packages of any description in which the game may be shipped or removed from said premises, shall before removal therefrom have attached thereto a card to be supplied by the State Game Warden, upon which shall be plainly written in blank space left for that purpose, the name and address of the purchaser with the contents of the box, crate or package, and shall be sold for propagating purposes only. The owner or owners, person or persons, corporation or association shall have the right to shoot the game upon said game preserves or propagating game preserves or propagating farms in season, provided that they do not violate any laws of this State or county. All birds and animals purchased for the propagating plant shall be purchased outside of the State of Maryland, and no game or game animals shall be brought within the State or county to be put upon the propagating plant.

SEC. 34P. It shall be unlawful for any person within the State or county to wilfully remove, mutilate or destroy any tags or maker so fixed to any crate, or box or animal in compliance with the requirements of this act at any time or at any place within the State, except as designated by this act or by the authority of the assignor or assignee of such game or to some
