

1910, ch. 294, sec. 12.

341. That all other justices of the peace of said Montgomery county shall continue to have, hold and perform all authorities, powers, privileges and jurisdiction heretofore conferred by the General Assembly of Maryland in all things that are not specifically limited by this act, and that nothing contained herein shall curtail or take away jurisdiction from any of said other justice of the peace, any jurisdiction in any civil matters or in any criminal matters so far as relates to issuance of warrants and summons for the apprehension of any person accused of any offence under the laws of this state.

KENSINGTON.

342. The citizens of the town of Kensington, in Montgomery county, are hereby created a body corporate, by the name and style of the town of Kensington, with all the powers and privileges of a body politic and corporate, and by said corporate name may have perpetual succession, sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded in any court of law or equity, and may have and use a common seal.

Ibid. sec. 3.

343. The boundaries of said town shall be as follows: Beginning at the intersection of the middle line of Perry avenue and the boundary line between North Kensington and Garrett Park, and running thence along the line between North Kensington and Garrett Park to the line of Ken Gar; thence along the boundary between Ken Gar and North Kensington; thence along the boundary between Ken Gar and W. B. McKeldin's subdivision to the northeasterly side of Bonneycastle avenue, subdivision of Ken Gar; thence northwesterly with said Bonneycastle avenue to a point in the prolongation of the western boundary of the old Bladensburg road; thence to and with said western boundary in a southerly direction to a point in the prolongation of the boundary between the lands of T. S. Gartrell and the subdivision of Kensington Park; thence to and with said line to the line of Alfred Ray; thence along the boundary between the lands of Alfred Ray and the subdivision of Kensington Park to the southerly limit line of the Metropolitan Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; thence without change of course to the northerly limit line of said Metropolitan Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; thence with said northerly limit line to the boundary line between the properties of Mary Mulfinger and August Burgdorf; thence along said boundary to the line of W. H. Manna-kee; thence along the dividing line between the lands of said
