1826, ch. 155. 1849, ch. 341.

15. Every child bound out under the provisions of this article shall, if a male, be bound until he arrives at the age of twenty-one years; or if a female, the age of eighteen years. And the said courts shall, in all cases, make it a part of the contract on the part of the master or mistress of such apprentice, that he or she shall give such apprentice reasonable education in reading, writing and arithmetic, to be particularized therein; and also teach such apprentice, especially if a male, some useful art or trade; and in all cases supply suitable clothing and maintenance.

All that the master need do is to prove that he used the necessary and proper exertions to teach the apprentice, but the latter's want of capacity will not be presumed. Wright v. Brown. 5 Md. 39.
