

fine or fines, after the proper court costs or costs of the justice of the peace in the trial and decision of the case shall have been paid, shall be paid to the informer, and the other half to the school fund of the city or county in which said prosecution is conducted.

1904, art. 99, sec. 32. 1898, ch. 206, secs. 2, 3.

39. All acts or parts of acts and all sections and parts of sections of the code, both of general and local laws, now in force, inconsistent with the provisions of sections 22-38 of this sub-title are repealed; provided, nothing in said sections shall in any manner affect the public local laws for Kent, Talbot, St. Mary's, Calvert, Harford, Allegany, Somerset, Worcester, Caroline, Prince George's, Cecil, Frederick, Charles, Dorchester, Montgomery, Queen Anne's, Carroll, Washington and Wicomico counties relating to game and wild-fowl, nor the local law as it now exists in Montgomery county as to hunting and killing rabbits, but that the local laws shall remain in full force in said counties, respectively.

1910, ch. 337 (p. 333).

40. It shall be unlawful for one person to kill more than fifteen partridges (quail) in any one day, or more than six pheasants (ruffed grouse) in any one day, or more than three English pheasants in any one day, or more than fifty ortolan or rail on any one tide, or more than twenty-five doves in any one day, or more than twelve woodcock in any one day, or more than twelve rabbits in any one day, or more than twelve squirrels in any one day, or more than twelve jacksnipe in any one day, or more than two wild turkeys in any one day, or more than one deer in season, when it shall be lawful to shoot said birds or animals.

1910, ch. 337 (p. 333).

41. Any person violating the provisions of the preceding section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of five dollars for each and every partridge, pheasant, or ruffed grouse, English pheasant, dove, woodcock, jacksnipe, rabbit or squirrel, and the sum of fifty dollars for each wild turkey, and one hundred dollars for each deer so killed in excess of the limits herein mentioned, and shall stand committed to the county jail, if said fine is not paid, for one day for each dollar of fine imposed, but not for a period of more than sixty days; any deputy game warden or constable or informer who shall procure a conviction under this and the preceding section shall be entitled to the half fine recovered, and remaining half shall be paid over to the state treasurer to the account of the state game protection fund, to be used by the state game warden as may be provided by law.