

Toy Balloons.

1914, ch. 62.

450. It shall be unlawful for any person within this State to sell, buy, barter, trade, give away, have in possession, send up, or cause to ascend, any toy balloon containing in or about it any fire, fuse, wick, lighted object, or object intended to be lighted; this Section to have no application, however, to balloons in or with which one or more persons ascend. Any person violating this Section shall on conviction thereof pay a fine of not more than Two Hundred Dollars, together with the costs of prosecution, and upon failure to pay said fine and costs shall be committed to jail and confined therein until such fine and costs are paid or for the period of sixty days, whichever shall first occur.

Toy Pistols.

1904, art. 27, sec. 398. 1888, art. 27, sec. 258. 1882, ch. 424, sec. 1.

451. It shall be unlawful for any person within this State to manufacture or to sell, barter or give away the cartridge toy pistol to any one whomsoever. Any person violating this section shall on conviction thereof pay a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, together with the costs of prosecution, and upon failure to pay said fine and costs shall be committed to jail and confined therein until such fine and costs are paid, or for the period of sixty days, whichever shall first occur.

Traction Engines.

Ibid. sec. 399. 1888, art. 27, sec. 259. 1884, ch. 170, sec. 1. 1906, ch. 474½.

452. Every traction engine, when propelled by steam upon or over any public road in this State shall be accompanied by at least two men, whose duty it shall be to conduct the engine as to cause as little alarm as possible to horses, or other draft animals, ridden, driven or led upon such road, and to render at all times all reasonable assistance to persons so riding, driving or leading horses, or other draft animals, upon such road.

This and the following section referred to in a negligence case growing out of the frightening of horses by a traction engine. Miller v. Addison, 96 Md. 733 (decided prior to the act of 1906, chapter 474½).

Ibid. sec. 400. 1888, art. 27, sec. 260. 1884, ch. 170, sec. 2. 1906, ch. 474½.

453. The person in charge of said engine, at a signal or request of any person riding a horse, or of any person leading or driving a horse, or other draft animal, becoming alarmed by said engine, shall go as far as practicable to the side of the road and remain stationary until said horse or horses, or other draft animal, have passed to a safe distance, in the meantime making as little noise as possible with the steam.

See note to section 452.

Ibid. sec. 401. 1888, art. 27, sec. 261. 1884, ch. 170, sec. 3. 1906, ch. 474½.

454. One of the men accompanying such engine shall, upon the approach of a horse or horses, or other draft animal, precede such engine
