

ARTICLE LXVII.

NEGLIGENCE CAUSING DEATH.

1.

Where an injured person dies after having for a valuable consideration executed to the party who injured him a release of all claim which he might or could possibly have for or on account of his injuries, no action lies under this and the following sections. Melitch v. United Rwy. & Elec. Co., 121 Md. 457.

To the first and second notes to this section under the heading "Generally" on page 1535 of volume 2 of the Annotated Code, add the case of Melitch v. United Rwy. & Elec. Co., 121 Md. 458.

To the second note to this section on page 1534 of volume 2 of the Annotated Code, add the case of State, use of Szczesek, v. Homburg Co., 190 Fed. 240.

2.

See notes to section 1.

3.

See notes to section 1.

4.

See notes to section 1.