

1914, ch. 800, sec. 42.

43. Should a further accident occur to an employe already receiving payment under this article for a disability, or who has been previously the recipient of a lump sum payment under this article, his future compensation shall be adjusted according to the other provisions of this article and with regard to the combined effect of his injuries and his past receipt of compensation under this article. In case of the remarriage of a dependent widow of a deceased employe without dependent children, all compensation under this article shall cease, and further no widow or widower shall receive any benefits under this article where the marriage shall have taken place after the person entitled to benefits hereunder shall have been injured, provided there are no dependent children.

If aggravation, diminution or termination of disability takes place or be discovered after the rate of compensation shall have been established or compensation terminated in any case, the Commission may, upon the application of any party in interest or upon its own motion, readjust for future application the rate of compensation in accordance with rules in this Section provided, or in a proper case, terminate the payments.

A husband or wife of an injured employe, who has deserted said employe for more than one year prior to the time of the injury or subsequently shall not be a beneficiary under this article.

In case of the remarriage of a dependent widow of a deceased employe without dependent children, all compensation under this article shall cease, and further no widow or widower shall receive any benefits under this article where the marriage shall have taken place after the person entitled to benefits hereunder shall have been injured, provided there are no dependent children.

1914, ch. 800, sec. 43.

44. If a beneficiary shall reside or remove out of the State and shall have been such non-resident for a period of one year, the Commission may in its discretion convert any payments thereafter to become due to such beneficiary into a lump sum payment, not in any case to exceed twenty-four hundred dollars by paying a sum equal to three-fourths of the then value of such payments.

1914, ch. 800, sec. 44.

45. If injury or death results to a workman from the deliberate intention of his employer to produce such injury or death, the employe, the widow, widower, child, children or dependents of the employe shall have the privilege either to take under this article or have cause of action against such employer, as if this article had not been passed.
