Attachment against non-resident and absconding debtors.

2. Defendants, who may be.

Attachment Against Non-Resident and Absconding Debtors.

1904, art. 9, sec. 2. 1888, art. 9, sec. 2. 1860, art. 10, sec. 2. 1817, ch. 138.
1832, ch. 282, sec. 1. 1854, ch. 153, sec. 2. 1916, ch. 596, sec. 2.

2. Every person who doth not reside in this State, and every person who absconds, may be made a defendant in an attachment; and any corporation not chartered by this State, or any corporation chartered by this State, which for a period of ten days next preceding is without at least one resident agent, whose name and postoffice address is given in its charter or filed with the State Tax Commission in conformity with Section 8A of Article 23, may be made a defendant in an attachment in the same manner as non-resident individuals, unless such corporation shall have been incorporated under the laws of this State prior to June 1, 1916, and have at least one director who is a citizen of this State actually residing therein.

See notes to this section in volume 1 of the Annotated Code.

10.

A contingent or uncertain interest in a trust estate which could not be definitely ascertained and was not susceptible of appraisal, held not attachable. Safe Depos. & Tr. Co. v. Ind. Brew. Asso., 127 Md. 468.

To the second note to this section on page 147 of volume 3 of the code, add the case of De Bearn v. De Bearn, 126 Md. 630.

Attachments on Judgments and Decrees.

29.

An attachment on judgment is considered as an execution and governed by the same principles. See notes to article 5, section 2. Sharpless Separator Co. v. Brillhart, 129 Md. 86.

*The act of 1917, chapter 23, provides for the suspension or stay, during the world war, of any judgment, order or decree, levy, right of entry or foreclosure, lien, power of sale, forfeiture or default, on application of persons against whom or against whose property interests the same may be executed or enforced, and who are unable, by reason of military or naval service, to pay or satisfy the same.
