An. Code, sec. 1. 1904, sec. 1. 1888, sec. 1. 1856, ch. 198, sec. 1.

1. Any person, either on ship-board or on shore, who shall harbor or secrete, or who shall in any way assist in harboring or secreting a seaman who shall have signed shipping articles to proceed on a voyage, or who shall persuade, or in any manner cause such seaman to desert or disregard the articles which he has signed, shall on conviction be punished by a fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the judge who tries the case; the fine to be not less than fifty dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, and the imprisonment to be not less than one month nor more than six months.

An. Code, sec. 2. 1904, sec. 2. 1888, sec. 2. 1856, ch. 198, sec. 2.

2. On complaint on oath being made by the master of a vessel, or some person in his behalf, that a seaman or boy apprenticed has deserted from his vessel, and that he is harbored, secreted or detained, any justice of the peace may issue a warrant under his hand and seal to cause search to be made in any place wherein the said seaman or apprentice is supposed to be harbored or secreted, and shall cause such seaman or apprentice, when found, to be delivered to the master of the vessel to which he belonged, or the person acting in behalf of the master.

An. Code, sec. 3. 1904, sec. 3. 1888, sec. 3. 1856, ch. 198, sec. 4.

3. Any master or keeper of a boarding or lodging-house for seamen, any servant, agent or other person in his employment, broker, shipping master, or other person engaged in the business of procuring and furnishing seamen for vessels, who shall go on board of any vessel in any of the harbors of this State without having previously obtained permission of the master or other person having charge of the vessel shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.
