Court of Appeals.

1927, ch. 684.

35A. The Court of Appeals shall have power to prescribe by general rules for the courts of law in this State the forms of process, writs, pleadings and motions and the practice and procedure in actions at law, and to provide when such rules shall take effect. Said rules shall neither abridge, enlarge or modify the substantive rights of any litigants, as distinct from procedural matters; but in respect to the latter shall have the force of law. Any such rule or rules so prescribed may be rescinded, changed or modified by the Court of Appeals or by the General Assembly of Maryland. All courts shall take judicial notice of such rules. This section shall not be construed to deprive Courts of Record of the Power to establish rules for their government as provided in Section 1 of this Article supplementary to and not in conflict with the rules prescribed by the Court of Appeals. And provided further that nothing in this section shall apply to the forms of process, writs, pleadings, motions, practice or procedure in criminal cases.
