

nesses, for their attendance and mileage, shall receive the same fees as are now or may hereafter be provided in cases in Courts of Record.

Whoever shall wilfully fail or refuse to obey a summons, subpoena or other process issued by said Board and duly served, or whoever shall wilfully refuse to testify or wilfully ignore or disobey any order of said Retirement Board shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than five dollars and not exceeding one hundred dollars, for each offense.

1929, ch. 351, sec. 76.

76. Whenever any Chief Recorder of the Superior Court of Baltimore City or any Chief Clerk, Chief Deputy, Deputy or Assistant of the Clerk of any of the Courts of Baltimore City, or of the Clerk of any of the Circuit Courts for the several counties of Maryland, or of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals of Maryland or other employee, exclusive of the said Clerk himself and of the Recorders in the Superior Court of Baltimore City, employed in the performance of any of the duties pertaining to the Clerk's Office of any of the said Courts, whose compensation is limited and fixed by the Comptroller of the State of Maryland in accordance with Article 17, Section 18, of Bagby's Annotated Code of the Public General Laws of Maryland, Edition of 1924, or whose salary is fixed by statute, or whose appointment is subject to the approval of the Judges of the Court of Appeals in accordance with said Article 17, Section 47 of Bagby's Annotated Code of the Public General Laws of Maryland, Edition of 1924; and likewise whenever any Chief Deputy, Deputy Register of Wills or Assistant Register of Wills or other employee, exclusive of the Register himself, employed in the performance of any of the duties pertaining to the office of the Registers of Wills of the City of Baltimore and any of the several counties of Maryland, whose compensation is limited and fixed by the Comptroller of Maryland in accordance with Article 93, Section 289 of Bagby's Annotated Code of the Public General Laws of Maryland, Edition of 1924, shall have served, in any one or more of said capacities, twenty-five years and shall have attained the age of sixty years when in office or having served as aforesaid twenty-five years and thereafter upon attaining the age of sixty years, he or she shall be eligible for retirement, and may upon his or her application be retired, and thereafter shall be entitled to, and shall be paid, an annual retirement allowance equal to the result obtained by multiplying the average salary paid to him or her for the five years next preceding his or her retirement or discontinuance in office by the number of years of his or her service, ascertained as aforesaid, and divided by the number seventy.

And whenever any of said parties in this section shall break down physically, or because of any illness or casualty become permanently disabled or disqualified for the further proper performance of the duties of his or her position, while in the service of any such Clerk of the Court or Register of Wills, as aforesaid, after having served a total of fifteen years in one or more of said capacities, as aforesaid, he or she shall likewise be eligible