

the orders of his superior officer in such behalf, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punishable as in such cases made and provided.

1867, ch. 367. P. L. L. (1888), Art. 4, sec. 730. 1922, ch. 507.

749. Whenever a vacancy shall take place in any grade of officers, it shall be filled from the next lowest grade, and detective lieutenants shall be eligible to appointment as captains as fully as if they were lieutenants in the regular force; the Police Commissioner is authorized to make all such rules and regulations not inconsistent with this subdivision of this Article as he may judge necessary, for the appointment and employment, uniforming, discipline, trial and government of the police and detectives; said Commissioner shall have power to require of any policeman, officer of police or detective, bond with sureties when he may consider it demanded by the public interests. All lawful rules and regulations of the Commissioner shall be obeyed by the policemen, officers of police and detectives on pain of dismissal or such lighter punishment as may be prescribed by the said Commissioner; and the said Commissioner shall have power to suspend from duty, fine or forfeit the pay of any officer or policeman, or suspend any rule or regulation made and adopted by him.

P. L. L. (1860), Art. 4, sec. 814. 1867, ch. 367. P. L. L. (1888), Art. 4, sec. 731.

750. No officer of police, policeman or detective shall be allowed to receive any money as a gratuity or extra compensation for any services he may render, without the consent of the said Commissioner; and all such moneys as any officer of police, policeman and detective may be so permitted to receive shall be paid over to the said Commissioner and together with the proceeds of all fines, forfeitures, penalties and unclaimed property which may come into the possession of the said Commissioner, or be recovered by him under the provisions of this subdivision of this Article, or any other law, shall form a fund which the Commissioner may apply towards the allowances of officers of police, policemen and detectives and their families, as hereinbefore authorized, and for extra pay to such members of the force as by gallantry and good conduct on extraordinary occasions they may be judged to merit; and any officer of police, policeman or detective who shall directly or indirectly in violation of this section, receive any moneys as a gratuity or extra compensation, and shall fail to deliver the same to the Commissioner for the purposes, hereinbefore provided, and shall apply the same to his own use, shall be forthwith dismissed, and be forever after ineligible to any position in the force.

P. L. L. (1860), Art. 4, sec. 821. 1874, ch. 146. P. L. L. (1888), Art. 4, sec. 732.

751. The Police Commissioner shall cause to be kept by his secretary, a full report of his proceedings, and also cause all his receipts and disbursements of money to be faithfully entered in books to be provided for that purpose; and said books, journals and all other documents in the possession of said Commissioner, shall always be open to inspection by the General Assembly, or any committee appointed by it for that purpose;