

tion of his term of office, or after being removed from his office to surrender and deliver up to his successor in office any property, money, books, or effects of any kind in his possession, as such officer or member he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon indictment and conviction in a court of law, he shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars and imprisoned in the county jail not more than two years; but nothing herein contained shall bar any civil suit that might be maintained for the recovery of such property, money, or effects.

1922, ch. 527, sec. 8H.

8. The overseer shall keep a list of all poor, beggars, vagrants, vagabonds, and other inmates, who shall be committed to said almshouse, and regular accounts of all materials, crops and other things that may come to his hands as overseer, and shall lay said list and accounts before the County Commissioners of Caroline County when required.

1922, ch. 527, sec. 9-I.

9. The County Commissioners shall annually levy on the taxable property of the county, a sufficient amount for the support of the almshouse and for the care of the inmates therein received.

1904, ch. 586, sec. 9.

10. The houses known by the name of the "Poor Houses" of Caroline County and the land thereto belonging, are vested in the County Commissioners of Caroline County and their successors forever, as their estate and inheritance, one part to be called the "Almshouse," and to be for the reception of the poor of said county, and the other part to be called the "Workhouse," and to be for the reception and lodging of vagrants, beggars, vagabonds and other offenders.

1904, ch. 586, sec. 9A.

11. The County Commissioners are hereby authorized to sell the present Almshouse Farm, if in their judgment a change of location of said Almshouse is desirable and necessary, the same to be sold at public sale after three weeks' notice given in the newspapers published in Caroline County, and on such terms as they shall deem most advantageous to the interests of the said county; and on receipt of full payment for the said farm the said County Commissioners shall give a good and sufficient deed for the same.

1904, ch. 586, sec. 9B.

12. Should the County Commissioners decide to sell the present Almshouse Farm, they shall purchase a tract of land, not to exceed fifty acres of land, within two miles of the town of Denton; should the proceeds arising from the sale of the said Almshouse Farm be insufficient to purchase the land and erect, furnish and equip proper buildings thereon, the said County Commissioners are hereby authorized to borrow a sum of
