

BIRDS AND GAME.

(All local laws relating to birds and game were repealed by ch. 568, 1927.
See 1929 Supplement to Annotated Code, Art. 99.)

BOUNDARY.

1929, ch. 26, sec. 1.

23. The boundary line between Caroline and Dorchester Counties from the west end of the Linchester Bridge to a point about one mile west of the western limits of the town of Federalsburg, shall be changed and established as follows:

Beginning in the centre of the State highway at the west end of the Linchester Bridge and running with the centre of the improved State highway to a point in the centre of the intersection of said improved State highway and the concrete and macadam State highway leading towards Federalsburg (said intersection being about half way between Linchester and Elwood), thence with the centre of said concrete and macadam State highway in an easterly direction towards the town of Federalsburg to a point in the centre of the aforesaid State road opposite the End Post in the line fence between the farms of Rufus Noble and Herman Noble, said post being about 8 feet west of a persimmon tree on the south bank of the ditch at this point, and said fence coinciding with the present line between Caroline and Dorchester Counties at this point, which can be further described as being about one mile west of the western town limits of Federalsburg, and thence following the present line.

1929, ch. 26, sec. 2.

24. All laws or parts of laws, and all agreements or surveys, inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency.

BRIDGETOWN.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 6, sec. 35. 1860, Art. 6, sec. 30.

25. The citizens of the village of Bridgetown, in Caroline County, are a body corporate by the name of "The Commissioners of Bridgetown," and by that name may sue and be sued, and may have and use a common seal.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 6, sec. 35. 1860, Art. 6, sec. 31.

26. The limits of Bridgetown shall commence at the forks of the road at the east end of said town, and thence running south until it intersects at the tan yard branch; thence running with said branch until a due north line will include all the buildings on that part of said town; thence north thirty-five perches; thence easterly so as to include all the houses and lots within the limits of said town, until a due south line will go to the first place of beginning.
