

mon Council of the city of Westminster, and all expense attending such direction and supervision shall be borne by the city of Westminster. The labor may be performed upon any of the streets and alleys of the city of Westminster, and upon the county roads leading into said city, and may include every service necessary to grading, macadamizing and repaving such streets and alleys, and said public roads.

1892, ch. 624, sec. 3.

304. It shall be the duty of the County Commissioners of Carroll County, after the passage of this Act, upon the request of the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Westminster, to deliver at such places and in such quantities as the said Mayor and Common Council shall designate, stone of a character suitable to be broken with stone hammers and fit for road making and improvements, such stone to be used only on the public roads of the county; and the said County Commissioners shall also furnish upon an order of the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Westminster, sufficient stone hammers to break the stone necessary for the improvement of the public roads designated in Section 303.

305. Eight hours shall constitute a day's work at hard labor, and such hard labor shall be performed between the hours of 8 o'clock A. M. and 5 o'clock P. M. No prisoner sentenced under this Act shall be exempt from hard labor except through physical inability, properly certified to by the physician to the jail. Should any prisoner or prisoners prove refractory and stubborn, and refuse to work or to perform the work in a proper manner, the sheriff shall place such prisoner or prisoners in close confinement, solitary if possible, within the jail, there to be kept on bread and water until he or they submit to perform his or their work properly, and obey orders from the authority under whose supervision he or they must work. The time of refusal to work shall not be deducted from the sentence of any person or persons who shall so refuse.

306. All beggars and vagabonds who roam about from place to place, without any lawful business or occupation, sleeping in outhouses, barns, sheds, or in the open air, and not giving a good account of themselves, shall be deemed vagrants and liable to the penalties of this Act.

1892, ch. 624, sec. 6.

307. The Sheriff of Carroll County shall report to the Mayor and Common Council of Westminster, or to the officer of the City of Westminster under whose supervision the hard labor provided for in this Act is to be performed, immediately upon their reception into jail, the name of all prisoners sentenced to hard labor and the length of sentence of each. The said sheriff of Carroll County shall deliver to the officer of Westminster under whose supervision the hard labor contemplated by
