

to restrain all disorders and disturbances within said town; to prevent and prohibit all congregations of disorderly persons within the limits of said town to apprehend and fine all tramps, vagabonds and disorderly persons who shall enter or be found within the limits of said town; to impose a tax on all geese, dogs, hogs and other animals, if any, other than those hereinafter provided, against running at large within the limits of said town, or to prohibit such running at large under such penalties as they may choose to impose upon the owner of such geese and other animals; and they shall enforce and collect fines, penalties and forfeitures for the violation of ordinances passed and enacted by them, and may commit or cause to be committed all offenders against such ordinances to the county jail until such fines, penalties and forfeitures be paid, with costs, but not exceeding thirty days.

53. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the preceding sections and for the preservation of the peace, health, cleanliness and good order of the community, and for the protection of the lives and property of the citizens of said town and to suppress, abate or discontinue, or cause to be suppressed, abated or discontinued, all nuisances and obstruction within the corporate limits of said town, the Town Commissioners of Cobb Island may pass such ordinances and by-laws from time to time as may be necessary, which said ordinances and by-laws shall have the force of law and may be amended or repealed by the said Town Commissioners at their pleasure.

1929, ch. 214, sec. 15.

54. All ordinances passed in pursuance of the foregoing sections of this Act shall be recorded by the clerk in a well-bound book, procured by the said Commissioners for the purpose, and the President shall sign his name to all ordinances as recorded, and the clerk shall attest the same, and a copy of all such ordinances attested by the clerk shall within five days from the enactment thereof be posted in at least three public places in said town.

1929, ch. 214, sec. 16.

55. The said Town Commissioners shall in the month of June, in the year 1929, and the same month in each and every year thereafter if they deem it advisable cause an assessment to be made of all real and personal property within said town of Cobb Island, or the corporate limits thereof, by their clerk, which assessment shall not exceed the assessment of the same for county purposes, if the same be assessed for county purposes, and the said Town Commissioners may levy a tax thereon not exceeding twenty-five cents on the hundred dollars' worth of assessable property.

1929, ch. 214, sec. 17.

56. Any person may appeal from the valuation of the assessor made as hereinbefore provided to the said Town Commissioners, who shall meet not
