

and the right of such appeal is hereby given to all parties interested in said proceedings.

1914, ch. S11, sec. 228A4.

387. Any justice of the peace of the district aforesaid before whom the impounding proceedings aforesaid shall be brought, or who shall be applied to or notified to advertise the impounded property as hereinbefore provided, be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to make sale of any of such swine so impounded as aforesaid, if the same be not returned to the owner as hereinbefore provided, and out of all moneys arising from such sale or sales made in execution of the provisions of this Act, he shall pay all of the expenses hereinbefore provided, and all fees and expenses and costs of every kind properly incurred in connection with the impounding and advertising of said property, including a fee of fifty cents ($0.50) to each of the appraisers, if an appraisal shall be made and in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and including a fee of fifty cents ($0.50) to the constable for summoning and swearing each appraiser, if the said appraisers shall be summoned or sworn under and in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and the damages, ascertained as hereinbefore provided, sustained by the person or persons upon whose land and property the said swine was trespassing when so impounded, and the remainder, if any, to the owner or owners who may establish their ownership to said impounded swine; and in the event that no such owner appear within thirty days after said sale, then and in that event, the said justice of the peace shall pay the said balance remaining in his hands as aforesaid, to the County Commissioners of Dorchester County for the use and benefit of the public schools of said county.

1904, ch. 427, sec. 1.

388. It shall not be lawful for swine or any kind to go at large without an attendant in that part of District No. 10, or Straits, known as Precinct No. 1 of said district lying on the west side of Fishing Bay in Dorchester County.

1904, ch. 427, sec. 2.

389. It shall be lawful for any person and the duty of a constable to take up any swine running at large and without attendants in that part of said District No. 10, or Straits, specified in this Act, and the person or constable so taking up any swine shall impound the same, and if taken up by a constable he shall give notice of said impounding by advertisement in at least two public places by either written or printed notice posted within that part of said districts specified in this Act describing the swine so impounded; and he shall proceed to sell the said swine at public auction for cash, after giving ten days' notice from the time of taking up of said swine; provided, the owner shall have the return of said swine on paying