

qualified to vote for State and county officers, shall possess all the qualifications of electors of said town with all the privileges such citizenship implies.

1900, ch. 555, sec. 4.

478. The qualified voters of said town shall arrange by convention or otherwise to hold an election in an ordinary and fair manner within the town limits on the first Monday in May, 1900, between the hours of 1 o'clock and 5 o'clock P. M. of that day and elect by ballot five persons of integrity and sound judgment from among their number, without regard to partisan politics, to serve as Commissioners of said town for one year from that date, and until their successors shall have been elected and qualified; provided, however, that should any unforeseen circumstances prevent compliance with the foregoing specific provisions of this section on the first Monday in May, 1900, said voters may comply with the same at any time within one year and one day from said date.

479. As soon as elected the Commissioners shall proceed to organize by electing one of their number president and appointing some capable, well qualified person as clerk, whose duty shall be to keep a correct record of all their official proceedings. Said clerk shall also act as treasurer of said town, giving to the Commissioners, and approved by them, a bond with sufficient security and penalties for the faithful performance of said duties as treasurer.

1900, ch. 555, sec. 6.

480. The Commissioners shall meet at least once in three months, and shall have full power to make and enforce all such by-laws, rules and ordinances, not in conflict with the laws of this State, as may be required for the prosperity of said town, for the comfort, health and convenience of its inhabitants, for the prevention and removal of nuisance and unhealthfulness, and for the suppression of vice and immorality within the town's limits, to appoint bailiffs and fix their term of office, to enforce such laws to preserve the peace and good order of the town, and perform such other duties as the Commissioners may assign them, and for this purpose said bailiffs are vested with the same power and authority and shall have the same remuneration as constables now have under the laws of this State.

481. The Commissioners shall fix the salaries and amount of remuneration of all officers and employees not otherwise provided for; provided, such pay shall not exceed one dollar per day for the time actually employed in such service, and provided, further, that any person shall have the right to donate to the town their services whenever they see proper to do so.
