

BLOOMINGTON.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 12, sec. 16. 1878, ch. 108.

28. The citizens of the town of Bloomington, in Garrett county, are constituted and made a body corporate, by the name of "The Commissioners of Bloomington," with all the privileges of a body corporate, and with a common seal and perpetual succession.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 12, sec. 17. 1878, ch. 108.

29. The male citizens of said town, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, being citizens of the United States, who have resided in said town for and during six months next thereto preceding, shall elect by ballot, on the first Monday in June, in each year, at such houses as shall be designated by the commissioners, five commissioners for said town, who shall also have resided within the limits of the town, six months next preceding the election.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 12, sec. 18. 1878, ch. 108.

30. Such elections shall be held and conducted as shall from time to time be directed by the laws of the corporation, not inconsistent with the provisions of this subtitle of this article.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 12, sec. 19. 1878, ch. 108.

31. Said commissioners, at the first meeting after their election, shall choose some one of their number as president of the board, whose duty it shall be to preside at their meetings, preserve order and give such directions as may be deemed necessary by them to carry into effect the provisions of this subtitle of this article.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 12, sec. 20. 1878, ch. 108.

32. They may meet together, from time to time as occasion may require, upon the business of said town, and not less than once in three months; and if, during the year for which they may be elected, any of them shall die, resign, remove from said town, or be otherwise disqualified, an election to fill the vacancy, on ten days' notice thereof being given by them, shall be held, at which all persons qualified as specified in Section 29 shall be entitled to vote.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 12, sec. 21. 1878, ch. 108.

33. They shall have power to appoint a clerk and assign his duties, and allow him such compensation for his services as they may think proper, and all ordinances passed by them shall be entered by their clerk into a book to be kept by him for that purpose, which shall be open at all times for the inspection of any person interested; and copies of all ordinances shall be put up in the most public places of said town, that the same may be generally known.
