

1916, ch. 680, sec. 115.

127. The commissioners of said town shall have full power and authority to order and direct such other elections as may be necessary under the provisions of this subtitle of this article, to give notice thereof, to determine upon the number of judges of such elections, who shall act and make their returns as provided in the preceding section, appoint them, and fix the place for opening the polls, and the hours they shall be kept open, and to call such town meetings as they may deem expedient from time to time.

1916, ch. 680, sec. 116.

128. If the inhabitants of said town shall at any time neglect to make an election as directed in this subtitle of this article, the power of electing commissioners shall not thereupon cease, but shall continue as though such election had been held; and the commissioners for the time being shall remain in office until such annual election shall be held.

1916, ch. 680, sec. 117.

129. All ordinances passed by the commissioners shall be entered by the secretary in a book, to be kept by him for that purpose, which shall be open at all times to the inspection of any person interested; and copies of all ordinances shall be published in one newspaper of the town, or shall be put up in the most public places in the town.

1916, ch. 680, sec. 118.

130. All fines and forfeitures under the ordinances of said corporation shall be recoverable before a justice of the peace, as small debts are recovered.

1916, ch. 680, sec. 119.

131. The sheriff shall receive and safe keep in the jail of the County all persons who shall be committed thereto by any justice of the peace of said county, for violation of any of the ordinances of the commissioners of said town, or for the non-payment of any fine or forfeiture which may be imposed by any justice of the peace of said county for the violation of said ordinances, according to the tenor of said commitment, until discharged by due course of law, or by payment of the fine, forfeiture and costs.

1916, ch. 680, sec. 120.

132. The commissioners shall annually appoint an active and discreet person to act as bailiff within the corporate limits of said town, who before he proceeds to act as such, shall make oath or affirmation before the Clerk of the Circuit Court that he will faithfully and impartially perform the duties required of him as bailiff of said town, without favor or affection, according to the best of his skill and judgment; and the said bailiff shall have, within the corporate limits of the town of Bel Air, all
