P. L. L., 1888, Art. 20, sec. 179. 1888, ch. 338. 1890, ch. 44.

255. All oysters taken in any of the waters of Somerset county, shall be culled on the beds or bars where taken or caught, and all oysters of a less size than two and one-half inches in length, measured from the hinge to the mouth, together with the shells, shall be left on their natural bars or beds after a sufficient time has elapsed for their culling and throwing over the same after taking them as aforesaid; and the possession of any such oysters and shells on board of any vessel in the waters of said county, or in the possession of any other person in the State of Maryland, when the said oysters and shells have been taken as aforesaid in the said waters of Somerset county in quantities of five bushels or more shall be prima facie evidence that the same are uncultured and a violation of the provisions of this act, and the person or persons having possession of such oysters and shells shall be subject to all the fines and forfeitures herein named; and the oysters and shells the possession of which is contrary to the provisions of this sub-title, shall be confiscated and returned to the natural beds or bars where taken at the owner's expenses; and any justice of the peace of the State of Maryland shall have jurisdiction to hear and decide such cases, and impose the penalties of this act whenever the said uncultured oysters, as above set forth, may be found on boat or in the possession of any person within the limits of said Somerset county.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 20, sec. 180. 1880, ch. 40. 1910, ch. 279, sec. 180 (p. 1119).

256. It shall not be lawful for any person to employ any canoe, boat or vessel in catching or taking oysters with scoup, scrape, drag or dredge or any similar instrument, either on public or private beds within the waters of Manokin River, in Somerset County, east of a straight line from Hazard Point, on the Sound side of said river, to South Point, on the southeast end of Little Deals Island.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 20, sec. 181. 1880, ch. 40.

257. Any person violating any of the provisions of the preceding section, shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred dollars for each and every offence, and shall stand committed to the county jail until such fine and costs shall be fully paid and satisfied.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 20, sec. 182. 1880, ch. 40.

258. On information under oath, of any violation of the provisions of section 256, to any justice of the peace of Somerset county, the said justice shall forthwith issue his warrant to the sheriff or any constable of said county, requiring the officer to whom the said writ shall be directed, to summon a posse comitatus, if necessary, and proceed at once to arrest the
