

FOXES.

P. L. L., 1888, Art. 22, sec. 151. 1872, ch. 166. 1890, ch. 449.

185. Any person who shall be convicted of shooting any foxes whilst pursued by dogs in Washington county, shall be liable to a fine of five dollars for each and every offense, to be recovered before any justice of the peace in said county, as other small debts are now recoverable; this section not to apply to election district number eleven in said county.

1922, ch. 249, sec. 151A.

186. No person shall trap or attempt to trap or set any steel trap, dead fall or other device on the lands of another without the written consent of the owner, and without, at the time of such trapping or setting of any steel trap, or dead fall or any other device whatever, he has in his possession such written consent and shall exhibit it to anyone demanding to examine it, and providing further, that any person setting or placing a steel trap on the lands of another, shall set or place such steel trap not less than eighteen inches within the entrance of any hole, cave, opening or hollow log, on such property, so as to be inaccessible to any domestic animal, dogs or fowls; and providing further, that any person finding any trap, dead fall or other device used for trapping purposes, as provided for in this section, not set or placed as herein required, may seize and destroy any such trap, dead fall or device so found in violation of the provisions of this Act.

1922, ch. 249, sec. 151B.

187. The sheriff and all deputy sheriffs, constables, game wardens and deputy game wardens, and all peace officers, are hereby required and it is their duty to enforce the provisions of this Act, and shall have the right to arrest without process any person found by them in the act of violating any of the provisions of this Act, and they shall have authority to seize, without process, any and all traps, dead falls or other devices found in the possession of any person on the premises or lands of another in violation of the provisions of this Act, and forthwith shall take such offender before any justice of the peace having jurisdiction of the offense and said justice of the peace, upon the complaint of any of said officials or other persons, shall proceed to try such person, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five dollars ($5.00) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each offense, and upon failure to pay any fine and costs, imposed by any justice of the peace, the person so convicted shall be confined in the county jail for a term of one day for every dollar of said fine and costs so imposed.
