

Zion's Cemetery and Gitting's estate and on the south by property known as the Strausbaugh estate and the ore road leading through said property.

1912, ch. 357, sec. 1. B. Co. C. (1916), sec. 402. 1928, sec. 481.

481. It shall not be lawful for any person to allow his, her or their stock of any kind, including horses, mules, cattle, goats and swine or geese, to go at large unattended in the village of Lansdowne. The metes and bounds of the village of Lansdowne shall be deemed and taken to be as follows: Being bounded on the west by the Hammond's Ferry Road, on the north by a road known as the Mine Bank Road, said to be twenty feet wide, extending from the Hammond Ferry Road to the property of the Whittaker estate; on the east by the property of the Whittaker estate, Mt. Zion's Cemetery and Gitting's estate, and on the south by property known as the Strausbaugh estate and the ore road leading through said property.

1912, ch. 357, sec. 2. B. Co. C. (1916), sec. 403. 1928, sec. 482.

482. Any person who may find any horse, mule, cattle, goats, swine or geese going at large and unattended by a keeper in said village may impound the same or report the fact to some constable or deputy sheriff, who shall impound same, under the penalty of two dollars for each head of stock or lot of geese he may neglect to impound, upon information given him; and the constable or other person impounding any stock or geese shall, within twenty-four hours after impounding, post up in at least three public places within the limits above prescribed a written or printed description of the stock, goats, swine or geese impounded, which written description shall contain a notice that if the owner of the same does not claim them within five days from the date of posting such notice the stock or geese impounded will be sold to pay costs of impounding and damages.

1912, ch. 357, sec. 3. B. Co. C. (1916), sec. 404. 1928, sec. 483.

483. If the owner of any stock or geese impounded shall claim the same before a sale thereof such owner shall pay to the person impounding one dollar for each horse, mule, hog, goat or head of cattle and each lot of geese containing two or more as a fee for the person impounding and one dollar per head for each day or part of day they may have been kept and all costs of advertising; and in default of paying the same, or if the owner does not claim the stock or geese impounded within five days from the time of posting the notice aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the person impounding to sell the stock, swine or geese impounded, for cash, at public sale, within said limits, upon giving four days' notice of the time and place of sale by written or printed bills, to be posted in at least five public places within the above described limits; and from the proceeds of such sale to deduct the costs and charges hereinbefore allowed, the costs of sale and the penalties prescribed in the succeeding section, and the balance of the sale, if there be any, shall be paid over to the owner
