Mothers' Relief.

1929, ch. 401, sec. 21. 1931, ch. 115, sec. 21.

21. Any mother of a child or children under the age of fourteen (14) years, whose husband is dead or permanently incapacitated, and who is unable to support it or them and maintain her home, may present a written application or petition for relief to the County Commissioners of the county wherein she resides, or to the Department of Welfare¹ of Baltimore City. Such application or petition shall be verified in such manner and shall contain such information as the said County Commissioners or Department of Welfare of Baltimore City may prescribe.

The child or children for whose benefit the relief is granted must be living with the mother of such child or children. The relief shall be granted only when, in the absence of such relief, the mother would be required to work regularly away from her home and children, and when, by means of such relief she will be able to remain at home with her children, except, that she may be absent for work a definite number of days each week, to be specified in the order giving relief, when such work can be done by her without the sacrifice of health or the neglect of home and children.

A mother shall not receive such relief who has not resided in the county where the application is made, or in the City of Baltimore, at least three years before making such application. Whenever any child shall arrive at the age of fourteen (14) years, the relief granted to the mother for such child shall cease; provided, that if a child of fourteen (14) years of age be ill or is incapacitated for work or is regularly attending school, the mother shall receive the funds for its care, during such illness or incapacity for work or during attendance at school, until such child is sixteen years of age. It shall be the duty of the Department of Welfare of Baltimore City and the County Commissioners of the respective counties to investigate every application for relief made in Baltimore City or in any of the counties, respectively, to hear all witnesses for applicants and to carry out the provisions of this sub-title.

The acts relating to "mothers' relief" do not violate provisions of art. 11A of Md. Constitution, relating to grant of home rule powers to Baltimore City. Court may issue writ of mandamus directing proper city officials to provide funds as required by this section and section 22 in an amount less than asked for. Baltimore v. Fuget, 164 Md. 335.

As to old age pensions, see art. 70A.
