

for appearance, or matters relating to the residence or conduct of the convicts as may be deemed proper; and if the convict is a minor, the courts may also make such orders as to his detention in any care or custody as may be deemed proper.

In all cases where sentence has been suspended by the Court, the defendant shall have the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals in the same manner as if sentence or judgment had been entered in said case.

This section does not authorize court, in suspending sentence, to impose payment of monthly fine or penalty. Appeal. Kelly v. State, 151 Md. 99 (decided prior to act 1927, ch. 608).

1927, ch. 398.

577A. Whenever any person shall have been convicted of any offense in any of the Courts of Record, of this State, having criminal jurisdiction, and the judge presiding therein shall not have imposed sentence or shall have suspended sentence generally or for a definite time or shall have placed the offender upon probation, or shall have made such other order and imposed such other terms as he may deem proper, and said person should at any time thereafter be brought before the Court to be sentenced upon the original charge of his conviction, or for a violation of the terms and conditions of the order of probation in the case, the judge who may then be presiding in that particular Court may proceed to sentence the said person.
