1933, ch. 189.

123A. The Boards of County Commissioners in and for Allegany and Washington Counties shall have authority to revoke licenses granted under Section 42 to any firm, person or corporation maintaining a place in such counties for the sale to the public of gasoline, oil or grease for use in motor vehicles, should the holder of such license, or any of his or its agents and employees have been found guilty before a Justice of the Peace, or in any Criminal Court of this State, of fraud in the sale of gasoline, oil or grease, or of obtaining money under false pretenses, or misrepresentation, or conspiracy to defraud arising out of the sale of any of such products. Any license which shall have been so revoked may in the discretion of the Board of County Commissioners be re-issued after six months from the date of its revocation but not before. During the period for which such license is revoked, no other license shall be issued permitting the sale of gasoline, oil or grease at the same place of business where the Board of County Commissioners has reasonable grounds to believe that to issue such license would have the effect of defeating the purpose of this section. Any person, firm or corporation affected by the revocation or the withholding of the issuance of any license by the Board of County Commissioners under the provisions of this section shall have the right of appeal to the Circuit Court of the County in which the license is issued, such appeal not to operate as a stay of the order or decision of the Board of County Commissioners.
