

wise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture. But no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence documentary or otherwise, before the Commission in obedience to a subpoena issued by it. Provided, that no natural person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

1935, ch. 310, sec. 18.

18. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that the instant, whenever that may be, that the handling within the State by a milk dealer of milk produced outside of the State becomes a subject of regulation by the State in the exercise of its police powers, the restrictions set forth in this Article respecting such milk so produced shall apply and the powers conferred by this Article on the commission shall attach. After any such milk so produced shall have come to rest within the State, it shall be subject to the provisions of this Article and the lawful rules and regulations of the Commission adopted pursuant thereto.

1935, ch. 310, sec. 19.

19. No provision of this Article shall apply or be presumed to apply to foreign or interstate commerce, except insofar as the same may be permitted by the Constitution of the United States, the acts of Congress and treaties made thereunder. The Commission, however, is vested with power to confer and cooperate with the legally constituted authorities of other states the District of Columbia and the United States, including the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, in order to secure a uniform system of milk control, and shall have power to conduct joint hearings and issue joint or concurrent orders and to enter into compacts for the foregoing purposes, and may exercise its powers under this Article to effect such uniform milk control.

1935, ch. 310, sec. 20.

20. The licenses and permits and other requirements of this Article shall be in addition to any other requirements, whether in the form of permits or licenses or not, now or hereafter exacted from or imposed upon milk producers or dealers, by health authorities, or such other public agencies, by any provisions of law, and in addition to the requirements of whatsoever character exacted from or imposed upon milk dealers or producers by the provisions of any charter or ordinance of any municipal corporation, or any sanitary or other regulations of any health authorities, pertaining to the production, storage, handling, content or marketing of milk. Nothing in this Article shall be so construed as to repeal or modify any such law, ordinance, or regulation, or as in conflict with any such charter provision unless herein excepted.
