

Public Landings.

An. Code, 1924, sec. 161. 1912, sec. 105. 1904, sec. 122. 1888, sec. 118. 1823, ch. 120, sec. 1. 1890, ch. 438.

162. In all cases where the public convenience requires it, the county commissioners shall have power to establish a public landing upon any navigable river, canal, bay, sound or other navigable waters.

Under this section and sec. 163, implied power is conferred upon county commissioners to construct wharf. There is no conflict between these sections and act of 1898, ch. 531, applicable to Anne Arundel County. Under this section, the determination of what the public convenience does or does not require is left to the judgment of the county commissioners, and they are to determine the matter in exercise of their discretion. It is not a matter with which the courts have anything to do or can in any manner control, unless action of county commissioners was arbitrary or induced by corruption or fraud. Words "public landing," defined. Chaney v. Anne Arundel County, 119 Md. 389.

It was duty of County Commissioners of Harford County to conserve and maintain the rights of the public to the free and unencumbered enjoyment of a public landing. Maxa v. County Commrs., 158 Md. 229.

163. Upon all applications to establish a public landing the same proceedings shall be had as on applications to open a public road.
