

1937, ch. 347, sec. 149.

170. The application for license and license plates under Section 168 shall be made upon forms supplied by the State Board of Agriculture. The license shall be issued only to applicants who are believed to be financially responsible. The fee for the license shall be two dollars ($2.00) and the fee for the license plates shall be fifty cents ($.50) for each vehicle, said licenses and license plates to be issued annually and to expire on March 31st of the year or part thereof for which issued. The State Board of Agriculture shall have the power to make necessary rules and regulations for administering this sub-title and to prescribe and to require such records and reports as may be deemed necessary therefor. The State Board of Agriculture, after due hearing, shall have the power to suspend or revoke any license for violation of any provision of this sub-title or any rule or regulation made thereunder and shall have the power to refuse to issue a license upon evidence that the applicant is or has been defrauding by shortweighing, paying by worthless checks or misrepresenting in dealings with producers, applicant or other licensees or for repeated violations of any of the provisions of this sub-title or the rules and regulations made thereunder.

1937, ch. 347, sec. 150.

171. Any State, county, city or town police officer, or any peace officer of the State, shall have the power to stop any vehicle to determine whether the provisions of this sub-title are being complied with and to hold any vehicle transporting poultry, and the operator or operators thereof, to determine the ownership of said poultry.

1937, ch. 347, sec. 151.

172. For the purposes of this sub-title, "person" shall mean any individual, firm or corporation; "retailer" shall mean a person with an established place of business selling dressed poultry for household consumption, which poultry was purchased dressed, and "poultry" shall mean all domestic fowl, including pigeons, turkeys and game birds.

1937, ch. 347, sec. 152.

173. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this sub-title and/or the lawful rules and regulations made thereunder, or who buys poultry except from a licensee under this sub-title or from a producer, shall, for the first offense, be fined not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and for any subsequent offense not more than Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00), and/or imprisonment, for not more than thirty (30) days.
