

An. Code, 1924, sec. 159. 1912, sec. 159. 1904, sec. 159. 1898, ch. 119.

159. An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere.

An. Code, 1924, sec. 160. 1912, sec. 160. 1904, sec. 160. 1898, ch. 119.

160. An acceptance is qualified, which is:

1. Conditional—that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated;
2. Partial—that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn;
3. Local—that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place;
4. Qualified as to time;
5. The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all.

An acceptance of an order "to be paid in thirty days from the date of the final completion of said work in accordance with the provisions of the contract," is conditional. Meaning of "conditional" acceptance. Crane Co. v. Druid Realty Corp., 137 Md. 330.

"Accepted for payment" followed by "as per Reolo contract" qualified acceptance by making it conditional upon performance of contract. Int. Finance Corp. v. Calvert Drug Co., 144 Md. 314.

An. Code, 1924, sec. 161. 1912, sec. 161. 1904, sec. 161. 1898, ch. 119.

161. The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance he may treat the bill as dishonored by non-acceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken, the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance, he must, within a reasonable time, express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto.

CHAPTER XII.—Presentment of Bills of Exchange for Acceptance.

An. Code, 1924, sec. 162. 1912, sec. 162. 1904, sec. 162. 1898, ch. 119.

162. Presentment for acceptance must be made:

1. Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or
2. Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or
3. Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable.

An. Code, 1924, sec. 163. 1912, sec. 163. 1904, sec. 163. 1898, ch. 119.

163. Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fail to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged.
