

verified by affidavit before some justice of the peace, of the number of bushels of grain weighed and inspected, and the amount of money received therefor, and shall pay the amount thereof, after deducting necessary office rent, and the payment of the wages of not more than two clerks, of a salary of not more than six hundred dollars per annum for each, to the Treasurer upon the warrant of the Comptroller.

14. The Treasurer upon the warrant of the Comptroller, shall allow and pay over to the inspector general and the other inspectors, one fourth cent per bushel upon all grain inspected and weighed by them; provided, the same shall not amount to more than two thousand dollars in the aggregate for any one year, for the inspector general, and the sum of sixteen hundred dollars for each inspector, it being intended hereby not to pay said officers, in gross, more than two thousand dollars to the inspector general, and sixteen hundred dollars to each assistant.

15 The said inspector shall carefully weigh one bushel in every sixty of wheat, and one bushel in every one hundred of corn, rye and oats, for the purpose of ascertaining the average weight of the cargo, or parcel of grain, and in weighing grain sold, it shall not be necessary to measure sixty bushels of wheat, or one hundred bushels of other grain, before taking a draft for weighing; but it shall be the privilege of either party, at any stage of the delivery of the grain, to require that any intermediate draft shall be weighed, and if each party shall have caused an intermediate draft to be weighed, the average weight of the two drafts shall be taken as the accurate weight of the said sixty, or one hundred bushels, as the case may be, and in case only one of the parties shall require an intermediate draft to be weighed, then the average weight of said intermediate draft, and the inspector's draft shall be taken as the weight of said sixty, or one hundred bushels, as the case may be; provided, that nothing herein contained shall require grain to be inspected, but that it shall be optional with the seller to have his grain inspected or not, under the law, as he may desire.

16. In case of a refusal of the purchaser to accept grain after the decision of the inspector general, as provided for in section
