

33. If any clerk of any court with whom the books and lists herein provided are required to be deposited, shall violate any of the provisions of this act, or make any alterations in said books or lists, or suffer the same to be done by others, except as herein provided for, or shall neglect any of the duties herein imposed on him, he shall, on conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, and be thereafter disqualified from voting or holding any office of honor, profit or trust.

34. If any judge of election shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of this act, or of the first article of the Constitution relating to the elective franchise, he shall, on conviction thereof, forfeit and pay a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, and shall be disqualified from holding office and voting.

35. Any person taking the oath herein required and swearing falsely in relation to matters connected therewith, shall, on conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall be sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than eight years, and be disqualified from voting and holding office.

In force from March 24, 1865.

ARTICLE LXXX.

Reporter—State.

Chapter 120 repeals article 80 and sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 of said article, and re-enacts the same with amendments, as follows :

SEC. 1. The State reporter shall be appointed by the judges of the Court of Appeals, and shall hold his office for the term of four years, unless sooner removed by said judges, and shall be styled the "State Reporter," and shall be re-eligible from time to time.

2. He shall receive an annual salary of five hundred dollars.