

TAXES.

Chapter 119 amends 1862, ch. 251, (I. Supplement, 51,) as follows :

41. The mayor and city council of Baltimore are hereby empowered to levy and collect taxes upon every description of property found within the corporate limits of said city, which they are now authorized by law to levy taxes upon for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the municipal government, whether the owners thereof reside within or without the limits of said corporation; provided, that no stocks, bonds, mortgages, certificates or other evidences of indebtedness of any bank or other corporation situated within the limits of said city, which are owned or held by persons residing without such limits, shall be subject to taxation for the purpose above set forth; and, provided further, that no authority is given by this act to impose taxes on any property which is now or may hereafter be exempted from taxation by any general or special act of the General Assembly of Maryland, nor upon any property which may be stored or deposited in the city of Baltimore for temporary purposes.

In force from March 20, 1865.

Chapter 180 enacts the following :

42. The premises now known as number twenty-eight north Gay street, and the premises now known as number one hundred and fifty-two west Fayette street, in the city of Baltimore, the ground, buildings and appurtenances thereto belonging, the property of The General Workingmen's Relief Society and The General Workingmen's Sick Relief Union Charitable and Beneficial Societies, are hereby exempted from taxation.

In force from March 24, 1865.
