

EASTON.

Chapter 99 adds the following section to take place after section 80 :

SEC. 1. It shall not be lawful for any person or persons whatsoever to ride any horse, mare, or gelding in or along any of the streets, lanes or alleys within the limits of the town of Easton, beyond or faster than a common trot or canter, and it shall not be lawful for any person or persons whatsoever to drive any horse, mare or gelding attached to any vehicle or conveyance in or along any of the streets, lanes or alleys within the limits of the said town, beyond or faster than a common traveling trot; and it shall be the duty of any constable or the bailiff of the said town, upon their own knowledge, or upon the information of any competent witness, to arrest any person or persons violating the provisions of this section, and bring him or them before a justice of the peace, who shall hear and determine the case, and in case of conviction, the party so offending shall pay a fine of not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars, together with the costs thereon, one-half of the said fine to be paid to the commissioners of the said town, and the other half to the officer making the arrest, and in default of payment of the said fine, the person or persons so convicted, shall be committed to the county jail for twenty-four hours, or until the said fine shall be paid.

In force from March 13, 1865.

OXFORD.

Chapter 201 amends sections 101, 104, 107, as follows:

2. Every commissioner hereafter elected for the town of Oxford, shall, before he shall proceed to execute his office, take an oath before one of the commissioners then in office, or before some justice of the peace for Talbot county, that he will diligently and faithfully, according to the best of his judgment, perform the duties of commissioner of said town without favor, partiality or prejudice, and a certificate of such qualification shall be filed and recorded among their proceedings.
