

may be granted, devised or bequeathed to said corporation for the promotion of the purposes for which it was formed, and shall hold, use and dispose of the said property, real or personal, according to the terms of the grant, devise or bequest by which the said property, real or personal, was vested in said corporation.

125. Every such corporation, so formed, shall be capable in law of purchasing, holding and conveying any real or personal estate whatever, which may be necessary to enable the said corporation to carry on the operations named in such certificate.

Ibid s 4.
May hold real estate.

126. Every such corporation, so formed, may make such rules and regulations consistent with the constitution and laws of this state and of the United States, as it may see fit to prescribe for its own organization and government, and may change the same from time to time, as it may seem proper and expedient; and the trustees, directors or managers who shall be named in the said certificate, shall supply by election the place or places among the said trustees, managers or directors, which may become vacant by death, resignation or otherwise in their own body, so that the number of twelve shall always be preserved.

Ibid s 5
Rules and vacancies

In force from March 2, 1867.

REMEDY AGAINST TRANSPORTATION COMPANIES.

1864, c. 371 adds the following:

127. If any person is or shall be aggrieved by any company incorporated by the laws of this state with authority to transport or carry persons or property for hire by reason of anything done or omitted to be done by the said company, in violation or contravention of its duty in regard to the transportation or carriage of property or persons as aforesaid, it shall and may be lawful for such person to apply by petition in a summary way to the circuit court for the 1864, c. 371.

Summary remedy against companies incorporated to transport persons or property for hire