

moval from office, and to deduction from their compensation, by said commissioners, and for that or any other malfeasance in office, be also liable to indictment in the circuit court for said county.

Corps of laborers.

94. The said county commissioners, if in their discretion they deem it expedient, may make provision for the employment of one or more permanent corps of laborers, not exceeding four corps for the county, for the repair of the roads and bridges of said county, under the supervision of such officer or officers of sufficient skill and experience for the purpose; and they shall require any officer or officers, appointed for such purpose, to give bond in such penalty, and with such security, as they may fix and approve, and with such conditions as they may prescribe in regard to the duties to be performed, the use, safe-keeping, and due return of all property placed in their charge, and the proper disposal of all moneys coming into their hands for road purposes.

Bond of supervisor.

May borrow money on county bonds for roads.

95. The said county commissioners, if in their judgment it is expedient and proper, may raise in advance such an amount or amounts as may be sufficient for the proper repair and improvement of the public roads of said county, by negotiation of a loan or loans upon the bonds of the county, at not less than their par value, bearing six per cent. interest, payable annually, and said bonds payable in annual instalments, in such order as may render their payment not oppressive to the tax payers of said county; and they shall provide in their annual levy for the payment of said interest and of said annual instalments, until said bonds shall be fully paid off and redeemed.

May drain roads.

96. If in the construction and repair of the public roads of the county, it be necessary for the proper drainage of said roads, it shall be lawful for supervisors or other road officers of the county to let off the water therefrom upon the adjoining lands, at such places as may be proper and necessary; provided, it shall be done with as little injury as possible to the owners of said lands, and provided the drains through
