

after the payment of twenty-five cents (25) for each log so removed, and the cost of said advertisement in addition thereto.

3. If the said logs are not removed after such publication, the owner of any shore may sell such logs to the highest bidder, by giving notice of his intention so to do by an additional advertisement for three successive weeks, as aforesaid, mentioning the time and place of sale. Ibid. s. 3.
Owner of shore may sell.

4. Any owner of a shore so selling shall be responsible for the excess of such sale over the sum of twenty-five cents (25) for each log sold, and the cost of the aforesaid advertisements and sale. Ibid. s. 4
Responsible for proceeds.

5. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to deny to the owner of any shore a right to an additional compensation for special damages, such as the destruction of fences, the lodging of logs upon cultivated fields, or other similar injuries. Ibid. s. 5
Additional compensation to owner of shore.

6. Any person removing logs from a shore without complying with the provisions of this act, shall be fined not less than fifty (50) or more than one hundred (100) dollars, one-half of which shall be paid to the informer; provided, such removal shall be effected before said logs have been advertised according to the second section of this act. Ibid. s. 6.
Penalty for removing before advertisement Proviso.

7. Any person or persons so removing said logs, after they have been advertised for sale as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined in a sum not less than (50) nor more than one hundred (100) dollars, or imprisoned in the jail of the county in which said misdemeanor may be committed for a term not less than three nor more than twelve months, or both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the Court before which such misdemeanor may be tried. Ibid. s. 7.
Penalty for removing after advertisement.

Approved and in force April 7, 1870.