

ceding sections, he shall forfeit and pay ten dollars, and also forfeit his interest in such estray to anyone who will sue for the same.

P. G. L., (1860,) art. 36, sec 7. 1832, ch. 157, sec. 1. 1874, ch. 315.

6. Any person aggrieved by the trespass upon his enclosure, of any cattle, hog, goat or sheep, may impound the same, and have the damages sustained by the trespass, valued on oath by two disinterested citizens of the county; and unless the damages and a reasonable compensation for feeding the property impounded are paid or tendered to him, may, at the expiration of ten days, (exclusive of the day he impounded the same and the day of sale.) proceed to make sale thereof at public auction to the highest bidder for cash; and after deducting from the proceeds of such sale the amount of damages valued to him, and a reasonable compensation for keeping the said property while impounded, he shall pay over the residue, when demanded, to the owner of the said property or his agent. This article shall not apply to Caroline, Wicomico, Garrett, Montgomery and Prince George's counties.

Ibid. sec. 8. 1832, ch. 157, sec. 2.

7. The person impounding, before making such sale, shall advertise not less than eight days before the sale, at three of the most public places of his neighborhood, a description of the property impounded, and the time and place of sale—and shall therein warn the owner to come forward and pay the damages and compensation for keeping the same, and take his property.

1870, ch. 403.

8. If any cattle, hogs, horses or sheep, trespassing upon the enclosures of any person in this State, be distrained, damage feasant, the owner of which is known, and the owner thereof does not tender compensation for the damage sustained by such person within five days next after such distress taken, and notice thereof given, with the cause of taking, to the owner or his agent, or left at his residence, in the event of his absence, and having no known agent, then the person so distraining may apply to a justice of the peace of the county, who, upon being satisfied that the notice hereinbefore directed has been given,