

his behalf, and until a bond shall be filed, similar in all respects to the bond required to be given in cases of attachments on original process for fraud, as prescribed by section 38 of this article; in cases arising under this section, the practice and pleadings shall in all other particulars conform to the practice and proceedings against non-resident and absconding debtors in actions ex contractu for liquidated damages.

Several Attachments.

1867, ch. 418

44. The plaintiff may have more than one attachment or writ of attachment, to be laid in the hands of different persons or levied on other property or effects than that taken under the first, though the first be still outstanding; provided, that but one satisfaction of the debt or demand shall be made, and that it shall be in the discretion of the court in all such cases, whether any costs, or if any, what amount of costs shall be allowed on the subsequent attachment or attachments.

Claimants of Property.

1876, ch. 285. 1888, ch. 507.

45. Whenever an attachment shall be levied upon any personal property, goods or chattels which may be claimed by a person or corporation other than the defendant in such attachment, such person or corporation may file a petition, under oath, with the court before whom such attachment is returnable, setting forth clearly the origin and character of his or its claim to the property so levied upon; and thereupon it shall be the duty of the clerk to docket a suit against both the plaintiff and defendant in such attachment, and issue a summons directed to said plaintiff and defendant, giving notice of such claim, and returnable to the next succeeding rule day or term. If such claimant shall establish the validity of his claim to said property he shall be awarded his costs, and shall also be entitled to recover damages in such suit for the wrong and injury done him by reason of such seizure and detention of his property.
