Illuminating Oils.

1870, ch. 266. 1872, ch. 135. 1874, ch. 504, sec. 2.

1. All oils or fluids manufactured from petroleum or its products, used for illuminating purposes in this State, which shall be manufactured or kept for sale therein, shall be required to stand a fire-test of one hundred and ten degrees Fahrenheit before it shall burn, to be ascertained by Tagliabue's coal oil tester, or some other instrument constructed upon the same principle.

1874, ch. 504, sec. 3.

2. Every person manufacturing or selling illuminating oils or fluids, manufactured from petroleum or his products, by the barrel, shall be required to have stamped upon the head of the barrel the name of the manufacturer thereof and his place of business, together with the words, "warranted to stand a fire-test of one hundred and ten degrees Fahrenheit before it shall burn."

Ibid. sec. 4.

3. Whoever manufactures for illuminating purposes, or sells in quantities not less than a barrel, oils or fluids made from petroleum or its products, which does not sustain the fire-test provided for in section 1 of this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the jail or penitentiary not more than two years, in the discretion of the court; whoever sells, in quantities less than a barrel, for illuminating purposes, oils or fluids made from petroleum or its products, which does not sustain the fire-test provided for in section 1 of this article, shall forfeit said oil, and be fined not less than five nor more than
