

found for the defendant, or the plaintiff be non-suited or discontinued, the defendant shall recover treble costs; and if the plaintiff shall be unable to pay them, they shall be paid by the attorney who brought or prosecuted the suit, unless the plaintiff shall give security for them, to be approved by the court.

1867, ch. 362.

27. If any person, without the consent in writing of the trustees or overseer of the almshouse, shall sell, give, dispose of or barter, any spirituous or fermented liquors to any pauper connected with or living at said almshouse, he shall, on conviction before any justice of the peace of said county be fined not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars for each offence, in the discretion of the justice, for the use of the almshouse.

ANNAPOLIS.

1876, ch. 207.

28. The boundaries of the city of Annapolis shall be as follows: Beginning at the water's edge at Windmill Point; thence by a straight line to Sycamore Point; and thence again by a straight line from Sycamore Point to the wharf at Fort Madison; and thence by a line drawn from the wharf at Fort Madison to the south wall of the Naval Academy, at the eastern terminus of Hanover street, and following the present enclosures of the Naval Academy to the Severn river, at the northeastern terminus of Tabernacle street; thence along the south shore of said river and College creek to the head of said creek; thence by a straight line from the head of said creek to the head of Acton's cove or Spa creek; and thence following the northeast side of said creek to the place of beginning. The said city shall be divided into three wards by the corporation of said city; and the citizens of Annapolis qualified to vote for members of the general assembly of Maryland shall elect by ballot on the second Monday of July in every alternate year, accounting from the year eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, a mayor and counsellor; and the voters in each ward shall at the same time elect by ballot two residents thereof as aldermen, who shall constitute the corporation of said city, under the name and style of the mayor, counsellor and aldermen of the city of Annapolis.
