

1884, ch. 74.

292. The judges of the circuit court, or one of them, and the judges of the orphans' court, or one of them, may jointly appoint some suitable person librarian of such public law library, and pass such orders for the government and regulation thereof as they may think proper.

LIBERTY.

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 11, sec. 188.

293. No person shall ride, drive or lead any horse, or drive any team, carriage or other vehicle whatever, upon any pavement on the sidewalks in the village of Liberty, in Frederick county; and any person so offending shall forfeit and pay, for every offence, the sum of two dollars, to be recovered in the name of the State, before any justice of the peace, as other small debts, and appropriated to the improvement of the sidewalks in the village.

Ibid. sec. 189.

294. Any constable of the election district in which such village is situated, in whose view any offence against the preceding section is committed, shall give information thereof, on oath, to some justice of the peace for said county, unless the offender pay said fine to the constable, who is authorized to receive it.

Ibid. sec. 190.

295. Any justice of the peace, upon oath made by a constable or other credible person, that an offence has been committed against the provisions of section 293, shall issue his warrant against the offender, directed to some constable of the district, who shall arrest and carry such offender before some justice of the peace for the county, to answer said information and complaint; and the justice before whom he may be taken, upon proof of the commission of such offence by such person, shall give judgment for fine and costs, upon which judgment there shall be no supersedeas; and the justice and constables shall be entitled to the same fees as in other civil cases.
