

LIQUOR AND INTOXICATING DRINKS.

1880, ch. 147.

300. It shall not be lawful for any person, or body corporate, to sell directly or indirectly at any place, or to give away at his place of business, any spirituous or fermented liquors, or intoxicating drinks of any kind (cider and home-made wine excepted), in the third, eighth, tenth, fifteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth election districts of said county; nor shall any license be issued or granted for the sale of the same in any of said election districts of said county.

Ibid.

301. If any person, or body corporate, shall sell directly or indirectly at any place, or give away at his place of business, any spirituous or fermented liquor or intoxicating drinks of any kind (cider and home-made wine excepted), in any of said above named election districts, he shall, on conviction thereof in the circuit court for said county, be fined for the first offence not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, and for each subsequent offence not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and on failure to pay the same shall be committed to the jail of said county until such fine and costs are paid; and one-half of said fine shall be paid to the informer and the other half to the board of school commissioners of said county, for the benefit of the public schools in the election district wherein the violation of this section occurred.

Ibid.

302. Nothing contained in the two preceding sections shall be construed to prevent the compounding or sale of any such liquors by a pharmacist or druggist, who may or shall have obtained license therefor under the license laws of the State, upon the written bona fide prescription of a regular practising physician of such district, whose name shall be signed thereto; and every such prescription shall be filed and kept by such pharmacist or druggist, and no prescription shall serve more than one purchaser; but no physician shall make or sign any such prescription unless the person for whom it is made is actually sick, or such liquor is absolutely required as a medicine; and any physician who shall
