

1886, ch. 244.

9. It shall not be lawful for any person to kill, destroy, snare, or in any way entrap, in said county, any woodcock between the first day of December and the first day of September; or to snare or in any way entrap any pheasant at any season of the year whatsoever; or to kill or destroy, snare or entrap, any partridge, between the first day of December and the fifteenth day of October; or to kill any pheasant between the first day of December and the first day of September.

Ibid.

10. Any person violating any of the provisions of section 9, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on presentment, indictment and conviction, or on conviction before a justice of the peace, shall pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each and every offence, one-half of which shall go to the informer and one-half to the board of county school commissioners for school purposes; and on refusal to pay said fine, he shall be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty nor more than sixty days.

Ibid.

11. No person, at any season of the year, shall wilfully destroy the eggs or nests of any of the birds above named, under the penalty of five dollars for each and every offence.

Ibid.

12. It shall not be lawful for any person to kill or take any wild turkey by means of any blind, trap, snare, net or device whatsoever, between the first day of January and the fifteenth day of September, under a penalty of a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars for each and every wild turkey so killed, taken or destroyed.

Ibid.

13. The possession by any person in the county of any of the birds above named, shot, killed or in anywise destroyed, shall be prima facie evidence to convict the person having such possession, of having done such shooting, killing or destroying.
