

1886, ch. 244.

14. The fines provided for in sections 8, 11 and 12, shall be recoverable in the name of the State before any justice of the peace in the county, one-half for the benefit of the informer and one-half for the benefit of the county school fund; and the justice imposing such fines shall have power to commit to the county jail for the space of not less than ten nor more than thirty days, any person convicted under said sections and refusing to pay such fine; provided, however, that any person thinking himself aggrieved by the decision of said justice may appeal to the circuit court for said county, and have said charge tried before the court or a jury.

Ibid.

15. It shall be the duty of the constables of the several election districts of the county, to arrest all persons who they may have good reason to believe are guilty of violating any of the provisions of this sub-title of this article, and take them before a justice of the peace for trial or hearing; and any constable failing to perform his duty herein as aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on indictment and conviction shall be subject to such penalty as the court may impose.

BLOOMINGTON.

1878, ch. 108.

16. The citizens of the town of Bloomington, in Garrett county, are constituted and made a body corporate, by the name of "The Commissioners of Bloomington," with all the privileges of a body corporate, and with a common seal and perpetual succession.

Ibid.

17. The male citizens of said town, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, being citizens of the United States, who have resided in said town for and during six months next thereto preceding, shall elect by ballot, on the first Monday in June, in each year, at such houses as shall be designated by the commissioners, five commissioners for said town, who shall also have resided within the limits of the town, six months next preceding the election.
