

elections for public officers shall be held in each of said districts at the places now established, or that may hereafter be established by law for that purpose.

1872, ch. 163.

132. The county commissioners are authorized to make such division of any election district or districts into election precincts as in their judgment the public interest may require, and to designate the places of holding elections therein, and the number by which each of said precincts shall be known.

Ibid.

133. It shall be the duty of the officer of registration in each election district so divided into precincts, prior to the next election in such district, to register all the voters in such district in the same mode and manner as the voters in other districts are required to be registered by the public general laws, article 33, title "Elections," relating to registration laws; and he shall prepare separate lists of voters according to the sub-divisions of such district into precincts, designating the election precinct of the district in which the voters are, or shall be, respectively entitled to vote, and shall deliver one copy of the list of voters for each of said precincts to the judges of election thereof.

Ibid.

134. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners to appoint three persons for each of said precincts, residents thereof, to act as judges of election for said precincts, who shall perform the duties of their office in the manner required by the public general laws, article 33, title "Elections"; and such judges shall make their returns in the same manner as if the said precincts were districts, and in accordance with the laws applicable to judges of elections for districts, and they shall receive the same compensation as other judges of election in said county.

FENCES.

P. L. L., (1860,) art 2, sec. 90.

135. All fences constructed upon or near the dividing line or lines of tracts of land belonging to different proprietors, and