

1882, ch. 287.

130. The justices of the peace for Harford and Baltimore counties, and the circuit courts for said counties, shall have concurrent jurisdiction in all cases that may arise under the provisions of section 128, and shall have full power, authority and jurisdiction to impose the fines prescribed in said section in the respective counties in which the offence may be committed; and the person so offending may be conveyed to either Harford or Baltimore county for trial and condemnation before a justice of the peace, or the circuit court for either county; and all fines so collected shall be divided as follows, to wit: one-half to the informer and the other half to the commissioners of said county, for the benefit of the school fund of said county.

Ibid.

131. Any party against whom any justice of the peace may render a judgment under said section may, at any time within ten days from the rendition of such judgment, appeal therefrom to the circuit court for the county wherein the same may have been rendered; but no such judgment shall be stayed unless the party appealing shall give bond to the State, with two sufficient securities, to be approved of by the justice, in double the amount of the fine imposed, with condition to prosecute such appeal with effect to the circuit court at its next session thereafter, and to pay the fine imposed and all costs attending such proceedings, in case judgment shall be affirmed.

1884, ch. 154.

132. It shall be unlawful for any person to fish by hauling seine, or to haul seine in the waters of Bush river, or any of its tributaries, in Harford county.

Ibid.

133. From the twentieth day of May to the twentieth day of August, it shall be unlawful for any person to fish with pound nets, or with gill nets, in any of the waters mentioned in the preceding section.
