

and a majority of all members elected to said body shall be necessary to pass any ordinance.

1878, ch. 440.

147. The city council shall meet on the first Monday in each month, so long as may be necessary, and shall provide by ordinance for extra sessions whenever they may deem the public good requires it; they shall receive for their services at the meetings herein provided for, the sum of two dollars per day; provided, that the amount so to be paid to each councilman shall not exceed the sum of thirty dollars in any one year.

Ibid.

148. All vacancies in the city council shall be filled without delay, by special election, the time thereof to be fixed by ordinance; and in case of a vacancy in the office of mayor, a new election to fill the said vacancy for the unexpired term shall be ordered without delay.

Ibid.

149. The mayor, on conviction in a court of law of wilful neglect of duty or misbehavior in office, shall be removed from office by the governor of the State, and a successor shall thereafter be elected as in a case of vacancy.

Ibid.

150. It shall be the duty of the bailiff of said city to make all collections required of him at any time within the year for which he was appointed bailiff; and on all taxes remaining unpaid for three months after they shall have been levied, he shall charge and collect interest from the date of the levy, at the rate of six per cent. per annum, to be accounted for with said tax; and within the city limits he shall have all the powers of a constable; and he shall give bond, to be approved by the county commissioners, as other constables, for the faithful performance of his duty as constable; and he shall execute a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the mayor, to the mayor and city council of Havre de Grace, in such penalty as they may require, for the faithful performance of his duties as city bailiff, and for