

fore a justice of the peace of said county, be fined a sum not less than ten dollars nor more than thirty dollars, one-half of said fine to be given to the informer and the other half to be paid over to the school commissioners of said county for school purposes.

1867, ch. 41.

275. In the event of the failure or refusal of any person so convicted to pay such fine, the justice of the peace imposing the fine shall commit him to the county jail for not less than thirty nor more than sixty days.

1870, ch. 231. 1882, ch. 278.

276. It shall not be lawful for any person to lash or beat the waters within the limits of Harford county, or which wash the shores of said county, with rods, poles, sticks or other instruments, or to make noises on the deck of any boat, or on any part of any boat, by the use of clogs or wooden shoes, or by any other instrument or means, for the purpose, or which will have the effect of driving or frightening wild ducks or water-fowl of any description from their feeding or roosting grounds in said waters, or to shoot at or do anything whatever with such intent and for such purpose.

Ibid.

277. Any person violating any of the provisions of the preceding section, shall, upon conviction, pay a fine of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars, and forfeit the boat, together with her tackle and apparel, and all other property on board of her at the time of her seizure; and the proceedings to enforce such penalties shall be as prescribed in sections 117 to 120, inclusive.

1872, ch. 54.

278. All that part of the Chesapeake bay and its waters, lying northward of the following line, viz: beginning at the light-house on Turkey point, in Cecil county, and drawn westward to a point half a mile north of the most northerly part of Spesutia island, thence continuing said line still westward, within half a mile of, and north of the northern end of said island and the adjacent main land, until it reaches the shore in Harford county, at